Gladiolus for 1937

PREPAID RETAIL PRICE LIST AND FIELD RECORDS OF FORD'S PRIZE WINNING GLADIOLUS

Selected from the cream of recent winners at the world's largest shows. Every variety listed here has been tested in our fields under the trying conditions of this climate and are the varieties that are pulling down 90% of the Blue Ribbons today. We do not list a lot of varieties that were in style 25 years ago, and call them the supreme Gladiolus of today, and we didn't have to grow over 2,000 varieties to find the best ones, and in turn offer you a lot of rejects under false ratings. The information in this list is up to date, with the exaggerations left out. Our Bulbs, with proper treatment and good care, is an assurance of your success with these most beautiful flowers.

FACTS, BULBS AND PRICES

In writing this Gladiolus Price List, we have attempted to give you the facts about every variety we list. Compare our list and prices with those of the leading Glad growers of the North, East and West, and you will agree this is the cream of the best. Instead of describing them with a lot of new adjectives and including colored pictures the reproduction of some artist's dream, we give you a statement of their actual performance, the records of which are taken from our field book. We keep a record of every variety in our field, telling you the blooming dates, the introducer, the type classification, latest A.G.S. rating, diameter of floret, buds on one spike, number open, growth habits, and ability to propagate. If they don't perform for us they just do not get in our list. We are not brokers, but growers and specialists. We began growing Glads 25 years ago as a hobby and always found a ready demand for our surplus bulbs. As our collection and stock increased, the demand increased until, to take care of the situation, we are forced to publish a price list. The prices herein are for large bulbs from 1½ in. diameter up. Many bulbs grow to 2½ in. and larger. We stand back of every bulb sold, guarantee them clean, young, healthy stock, free from disease and insect pests, to be full of vitality and true to name. These bulbs are grown under the most modern methods from propagating the bulblets to delivering the bulbs to you from our new "air-conditioned" bulb storage house. Our stock is absolutely free from thrips. All our Glads are sprayed during growing season as a preventative, rather than a remedy. Good bulbs are scarce this year on account of the unusual drought, almost 60 days without rain. Only by irrigation were we able to succeed this year. All of these efforts were rewarded at the Georgia State Show by winning 24 Blue Ribbons, the Holzman Trophy, Achievement Award, Sweepstakes and three beautiful vases. If you desire buying smaller bulbs, the price for medium size bulbs is 25 per cent discount from the prices herein. The Championship Spike at the Georgia State Show was grown from a No. 2 size bulb sold by us. With every order we send you a copy of cultural directions. We want you to succeed and you can't fail if you use our bulbs and follow our instructions. While the prices here might look high to some, we will include enough extra bulbs to give you big value for your money. A trial order will convince you. Prices are prepaid anywhere in the United States. No mail order accepted under one dollar.

PRICES ON MIXTURES

We try very hard to grow only good varieties and keep them absolutely true to name. As most mixtures are not satisfactory to the real Glad fan. Name the varieties you want in your mixture and if not to be labeled we will give you the quantity price on them and some thrown in for good measure. You will be pleased with the bulbs and the count and thrilled when you see the blooms they produce. Try a few of our newer varieties. We know you will like them.

GLADIOLUS SOCIETY

The Georgia State Gladiolus Society was organized in January, 1936, and is working along the same line as the National and other State Societies to make Glads more popular in Georgia. We are building a wonderful society and staged our first annual show July 8 and 9, 1936, which was a wonderful success. If you are a resident of Georgia and a Glad fan, you should be a member of this society, and as an inducement to everyone not already a member, who will include their annual dues ($1.00) with their order for bulbs, we will send a dollar's worth of bulbs free and forward you membership to the Secretary.
